Who is this service for?

This service has been set up to help any parent who wishes to breast feed their baby, or is already breast feeding.

We also offer support to parents who are experiencing difficulties with bottle feeding.

You can also come along if you would just like to chat to other parents, partners and grandparents about their experiences, share stories and support each other.

If you are still pregnant and have not yet decided on how you will feed your baby, you can come along to discuss any infant feeding queries you may have.

We aim to offer advice and support to help you make the right choice for you and your baby.

This service is aimed at parents, but grandparents and other caregivers are also welcome.

What does the service offer?

Although the service offers information and advice for feeding issues only, if you have other difficulties that are discussed during the session, you will be offered help and support as appropriate.

If we cannot help at this session you will be directed to someone else who can offer further help.

The service is run on a drop-in basis.

That means that you do not have to make an appointment, you can just turn up.

When does the drop-in clinic run?

The clinic is available:

Every Friday
between 10.00 am - 12.00 midday
(except bank holidays)

The clinic is held at:

Whiston Hospital
Parent Education Room
Level 2
(just past the scan department)

Light refreshments will be available

 If our Infant Feeding Drop-In Clinic is not operational for whatever reason the Infant Feeding Team will arrange an appointment for you to come and see us at your convenience *****
