

Trust Board

Richard Fraser
Chairman
The Chairman of the Trust Board is a non-executive appointment, and is responsible for leading the Board, and ensuring that the Trust fulfils its legal and financial obligations.

St Helens and Knowsley Teaching Hospitals NHS Trust is run by a Board that consists of Executive and Non-Executive Directors. The Trust delivers health care services at Whiston, St Helens and Newton hospitals and some community services. The Board sets the strategic direction of the Trust, maintains high standards of quality and performance and ensures that robust systems of corporate governance are in place. The Board's most important priority is to ensure that the services delivered to patients are safe and effective.

Ann Marr
Chief Executive
The Chief Executive is the Trust's accountable officer with overall responsibility for the performance of the organisation. The Chief Executive is supported by the Executive Directors and other senior managers to deliver the Trust's corporate objectives.
